

DISASTER IS FACING THE GERMAN LEGIONS

GERMAN SUBMARINES, ON MISSION FRIGHTFULNESS APPEAR OFF THE COAST

TUG AND BARGES SHELLED AND FEW MISSILES LAND ON COAST

HIGH SEAS ARE BEING SCoured

American Anti-U-Boat Campaign Is Inaugurated by Navy. Precautions Are Taken

(International News Service.)
Boston, July 22.—The first German shells have landed on American soil. They struck at Orleans yesterday, and were three shells of over one hundred fired from a German super-submarine which brought the war into Boston's front door yard. One landed near a group of Camp Fire girls, another struck near where two girls were bathing. The third buried into the beach sand without exploding.

Every indication is that they were fired deliberately to further a campaign of frightfulness on this side the Atlantic.

Officials at the Massachusetts General Hospital today refused information regarding the condition of two Austrians, members of the crew of the Perth Amboy, wounded when the tug was shelled.

ANOTHER CRISIS IN AUSTRIAN CABINET

VON SEYDELER MAY BE FORCED TO TENDER RESIGNATION.

(International News Service.)
London, July 22.—The resignation of Premier Von Seydeler of Austria and his cabinet has been accepted, said a dispatch from Copenhagen this afternoon, quoting a Vienna dispatch. The Cologne Volks Zeitung of Germany understands that Count Czernin, former Austrian foreign minister, may form a new ministry.

(International News Service.)
London, July 22.—A ministerial crisis has developed in Vienna and the Central News correspondent at Zurich understands that the Von Seydeler cabinet has resigned again. An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Zurich said that story scenes attended the council of ministers in Vienna on Sunday. Premier Von Seydeler withheld the text of his Reichsrath speech, and the Slav ministers threatened to resign as a result.

(International News Service.)
Zurich, July 22.—The municipal council of Limburg (in the province of Galicia) has adopted a resolution demanding immediate peace based upon the rights of self-determination by the people, said a dispatch from Vienna today.

62 NAMES APPEAR ON CASUALTY LIST

(International News Service.)
Washington, July 22.—Sixty-two casualties in the American forces were announced today, divided as follows: Nine killed in action, fourteen died from wounds, seven from disease, three from accident, fourteen wounded severely, sixteen missing in action, one made prisoner. The only Alabamian is Private Robert L. Posey, severely wounded, Grey's Chapel, Ala.

WAGE LAW NEEDED THOMAS DECLARES

(International News Service.)
Washington, July 22.—"The time has come when Congress should reconvene and pass a maximum wage law," said Senator Thomas of Colorado on the floor of the Senate this afternoon. "I trust the rapidly spreading menace of strikes," he continued, "will find response in some sort of legislation that will strengthen the hands of the government in dealing with these difficulties."

GERMANS TRYING TO EXPLAIN THEIR DISASTER AT THE MARNE

(International News Service.)
Amsterdam, July 22.—The German offensive is undeniably a failure, said the Volks Zeitung in commenting upon the turn which the military situation had taken in the west. "We are unable to hide any longer that German deserters betrayed our military plans."

The Frankfurt Gazette said the victory at the Marne has done more to break German resistance than the socialist speeches in the Reichstag.

The German army command has begun to camouflage. An official explanation has been issued which follows in part: "Those who expected immediate investment and capture of Rheims or imagined that the passage of the Marne at Roiman signified that we wished to push toward the Seine river, were badly informed. What value would Rheims have if we did not capture thousands of prisoners and cannon at the same time? Our troops penetrated the forest southwest of Rheims and that ought to suffice us for the crossing of the Marne. We had another aim that would permit us to advance on the right bank."

SUGAR PURCHASED FOR PRESERVING PURPOSES REDUCED TO TEN POUNDS

Sugar purchases for preserving purpose are today reduced from 25 pounds to 10 pounds. Notice to that effect, together with further regulations governing the sale of sugar, is given in a communication from R. M. Hobbie, state food administrator, to W. B. Edmundson, county food administrator.

The communication follows: Montgomery, Ala., July 22, 1918. To Retail Dealers in Sugar:

Alabama has been allotted a certain monthly allowance of sugar. We look to the retail dealer to see that this allotment, which is much less than our normal consumption, is equitably distributed among the consumers of the state. We ask, therefore, that you confine your sales of sugar to your regular customers and that you fill no orders for people living in other communities; that you spread out your allotment of sugar throughout the entire month in order that all of your customers may receive their fair share. If you sell your entire month's allotment within a few days, which we have found to be the case in quite a number of instances, then your regular customers will suffer for sugar during the balance of that month. A great many retailers have called on us to increase their allowance of sugar.

This we have no authority to do—in fact, your August allowance will be less than your July allowance. In order that there may be no going from store to store by unpatriotic people, we ask that you, in addition to serving only your regular customers, keep in your store a file where each customer will register his name and address every time he buys sugar for domestic use. We suggest the use of two long sheets of paper with a carbon between. The original you will send at the end of each week to your County Food Administrator and the carbon you will keep. The County Food Administrator will examine the report sent him by you and if he finds that any one person is buying sugar from several different retailers in quantities in excess of the allowance of three pounds per person per month, for each member of his family, including servants, then that particular individual will be published in the papers throughout the state as a slacker, and all retailers will be notified to sell no more sugar to such person, and he then may be prosecuted under the law for hoarding sugar. The penalty for hoarding carries with it a prison sentence of two years. You are to confine your sales in cities to two pounds at (Continued on page two.)

MAYOR ANSWERS WATER COMPANY

SAYS THAT PUBLIC IS ASKED TO SAVE COAL AND PAY FOR IT TOO.

That the public is asked to save coal and pay for it too, is the charge made by Mayor Payne today in replying to the assertion of the Alabama Water Company that meters had been installed as a fuel conservation measure.

The mayor's statement follows: Saving at any time is very laudable and just now is a very patriotic duty. The Water Company asks us to save coal for the government and to "keep us from freezing next winter," by useless water.

The government asks us to save flour, but does not ask us to save it and pay for it too. The Water Company asks us to save coal and pay for it at the same time. By their "campaign of education" they have reduced the consumption of water two million gallons per 24 hours. Who saved the coal that would have been used to pump this two million gallons? The Water Company or the people? The people have saved the Water Company the cost of pumping two million gallons of water per 24 hours, but they pay the same old flat rate as they did when they pumped four million gallons per day. The "campaign of education" is teaching us to save coal now, by paying the Water Company for it in order that we may not "freeze next winter," but when we begin to freeze, go to the coal dealer and pay again for what we have saved.

Two million gallons saved at 24 cents per thousand gallons is $480.00. Who gets the benefit of this saving? E. C. PAYNE, Mayor.

PULPIT SOUNDED WARNING SUNDAY TO ALL SLACKERS

REV. S. G. M'CLUNEY AT WILLOUGHBY PRESBYTERIAN SAID MOST WERE WORKING.

"Every minister in Morgan county has been asked to preach today on the subject of the slacker," said Rev. S. G. McCluney, as he opened his thoughtful and inspiring sermon from the Willoughby Presbyterian pulpit yesterday morning.

"In the present conflict patriotism and religion have joined hands as never before in the world's history. We must be patriotic in order to be of the best service to God and to our fellowmen," continued the preacher. The service was closed with prayer by Tom Williams, one of the church elders. Mr. Williams petitioned that all, "as one man should arise to do his duty at this time and remain on the 'job' seven days in the week."

Mr. McCluney's sermon followed an inspiring song service led by Mrs. W. R. Alexander, and was in part as follows:

"And David said unto Ornan: 'Nay; but, I will verily buy it for the full price.'—1st Chron. 21:24. David did not send some one to make his purchase. When we have anything to sell and there is an active demand for it, the first thing we do is to shoot the price away up; until it is a common practice of those who want to purchase sites for factories to send some one who is supposed to have but little means. David came to the point as to what he wanted. We say we cannot pray; but if we really want anything of the Lord we don't have much trouble telling what we want."

The Responsibility Now on Our Soldiers.

"The flower of our manhood has either passed across the water or is now in the cantonments. When I used to preach to my people that the responsibility for our country was soon to pass to them, I little thought it was to happen so soon. You know that the liberties we now have were bought for us by the bold and mighty strokes of our fathers who sacrificed their all, so as to strike down tyranny. They struck down the British lion, that the American eagle might be free. Now that the allied nations are over-run by the Hun, it has become the duty of our nation to defend liberty for the entire world."

"We, back at home, must not say that we can do little. As our boys are giving their all, it behooves us to make every sacrifice to see to it that they have the proper support, care and attention. We must give up our pleasures and our luxuries, that we may have those things so badly needed by our wounded soldiers and by those exposed to the ravages of war."

The Only Available Man to Drench a Cow.

Speaking of printed reports to the effect that Morgan county had its full quota of slackers, the preacher said that such a report must not have had reference to the Twin Cities. So far as his immediate neighborhood was concerned, every one seemed to be busy seven days a week. In this connection Mr. McCluney said that on a recent weekday one of his neighbors called on him to drench a suffering cow; and when he explained that he was very ill from a chill, he was met with the reply that he was the only man in the neighborhood who was not away working on some regular job. "I do say we must make the sacrifices necessary," continued the speaker. "Nothing is worth very much, that we do not have to pay the full price for. The bargain counter is seldom the place to get real values. The glorious victories that are now falling to our arms would never have come but for the fact that we had the price and were willing to pay it. As no woman of refinement wants anything that is soiled or unfit, so nothing that is common or cheap is needed at this time."

Yourselves and Your Words go Down Together.

"We are more loyal as supporters of the commander of our armies than we are to Jesus Christ, I fear. We are too often found trying to get re-

ENEMY THROWN BACK FOR SEVERAL MILES: PIVOTAL POINT TAKEN

ENTENTE ARMIES CONTINUE TO DRIVE THE GERMAN ARMIES BEFORE THEM

BRITISH TROOPS ALSO TAKE A HAND

Indications Are That the Retreating Foe Is Badly Disorganized

The new week opens with the Germans retiring over a wide front before the savage counter thrusts of the French, Americans, British and Italians, between the Aisne, the Marne and Rheims.

After being thrown back five miles north of the Marne and losing their pivotal position at Chateau Thierry, the Germans began a series of violent attacks in the nature of rear guard engagements at Bezu-St. Germaine and Erisolles, respectively four and six miles north and northwest of Chateau Thierry. These thrusts which were aimed at stemming the allied advance broke down, and the Franco-American forces maintained all their positions intact.

Tremendous losses were inflicted in the retreat of the Germans from the Marne—their second big retreat in the same zone since the beginning of the war. It is estimated at French headquarters that some of the German units lost 50 per cent of their effectives.

(International News Service.)

London, July 22 (1:30 p. m.)—The Americans on the Marne advanced from three to four miles on Sunday. They passed Barbillon (two miles north of the Marne and northeast of Chateau Thierry). Between the Orucq and the Aisne river the Germans launched heavy counter attacks but could gain no ground. Between the Orucq and the Marne the Franco-American forces have captured 400 additional prisoners. The French have cut the Soissons-Chateau Thierry road at several places. They are still going ahead. Further south the French crossed the Marne at Mizy and Courbelles. The passage was carried out under a rain of gas shells. The Americans crossed the river between Charleville and Gland on a front of two and one-half miles.

(International News Service.)

With the American Army on the Marne, July 22.—The American cavalry was employed for the first time yesterday, pursuing the Germans north of the Marne. The Americans crossed the river on the same bridges that the Germans had used. These forces pushed forward in a fan-like formation to affect a junction with the Americans driving eastward from Boeresches-Torcy, north of Chateau Thierry.

(International News Service.)

Washington, July 22.—The American troops with undiminished vigor are forcing the enemy to yield bitterly contested positions. Gen. Pershing reported in his communique of July 21, made public by the war department today. In the past two days they have taken more than 6,000 prisoners, more than 100 cannon and many trench mortars.

The Americans and French have taken Chateau Thierry and Hartennes and they are almost in Oulchy-Le-Chateau and are driving on the German defenses of Soissons with irresistible violence. The Franco-American forces have extended their advance to more than 10 miles at some points and the prisoners probably number from 20,000 to 24,000.

(International News Service.)

Washington, July 22.—There will be little let-up in the present American-French offensive until the Germans reach their main line of defense trenches.

While the element of surprise no longer is a factor in the fighting between the Aisne and the Marne the assaulting allied forces are taking every possible advantage of the shattered morale of their German opponents.

It is believed here that before the present operations come to an end the casualties among the enemy and the prisoners and war material taken will prove a record for results on the western front.

With the Hun line smashed all over an enormous front, Chateau Thierry in allied hands and the line advanced seven miles on the Chateau Thierry-Soissons front, everything favored the attacking forces. It was believed that in order to withdraw his heavily concentrated units the Crown Prince will be compelled to abandon a great part of his rear guard and most of his big guns and war material.

All of the reports which have reached this city indicate that the German forces are practically demoralized, as a result of the surprising swiftness with which the present series of assaults is being administered.

(International News Service.)

With the American Army in France, July 21.—Lieut. Putnam and Lieut. Baker Brody Freeman shot down two airplanes on Saturday, it was reported today.

(International News Service.)

Paris, July 22.—The German retreat continues. After clearing the southern banks of the Marne and capturing Chateau Thierry in a storm assault, the French-American forces swept on to Bevu-St. Germaine, an advance of over four miles. The allied advance has continued all along the zone of the great counter offensive—from the Aisne to the Marne rivers. The German pivotal position at Outchy-le-Chateau (on the center) is flanked on three sides and its fall is imminent. South of Soissons (the key-stone position of the German line on the northern end of the Aisne-Marne front) the Germans have been making desperate resistance, throwing fresh troops into the struggle in an effort to stem the allied advance.

American and French artillery is keeping the Fismes and Fere-En-Tardennois railways, the main German lines of com-

LUKE M'LUKE AS AN APOLOGIST

Luke M'Luke, the syndicate peddler of humorous junk that strikes a certain popular chord, has apologized for being an anti-prohibitionist. He explains his hostility to temperance after the following fashion:

A lot of Luke's knockers hold that he is against prohibition because he is a rummy. Luke doesn't drink, and has no desire to drink. But Luke everlastingly hates a bigot who holds that personal liberty means getting soused. And Luke smokes, and chews tobacco, and eats and wears clothes. And if a hired lobby can tack a rider on a bill and tell Luke what he must not drink, this same lobby can tack a rider on another bill and tell Luke what he must not smoke, or chew or eat, or wear.

Luke's line of argument is of the type used by the school boy. He might have gone further and said that the law did him a great injustice when it denied him the right to murder, to steal and to commit bigamy. But Luke's a humorist, and like all the other funny men, is most "amusin'" when in serious vein.

President A. W. McCulloch of the Alabama Press Association. This sounds good to every newspaper man in the state. He was selected as the standard bearer at the press convention held at Birmingham last week which was the 47th annual, and may be depended on to fill the position with credit to himself and the organization. The interests of the Alabama Press Association will be his watch word and we congratulate the members on so wise a selection. The following officers were also named for the ensuing year, giving the president a progressive and capable staff: First Vice President, Oscar M. Duggar, of the Andalusia Star; Second Vice President, Samuel H. Oliver, of the LaFayette Sun; Secretary-Treasurer, James H. Hard, of Birmingham; Recording Secretary, Frank N. Julian, of the Sheffield Standard; Historian, John C. Williams, of the Talladega Mountain Home.

The latest submarine outrage is probably a brazen attempt to frighten America, the thick-skulled Huns having failed to learn that the dastardly murder of helpless people merely tends to incite the Yankee fighting ire.

The Twin Cities need a good band, and every encouragement should be given to the one that is being organized. At present there is no band available for any occasion in this section of the state.

The next time the war correspondents go out to witness the launching of a grand offensive, the invitation, if extended, will come from the allies.

Record Meat Purchase Made by the Army

Chicago, July 22.—The largest single order for bacon and canned meats in the history of the world—29,560,000 pounds of bacon and 134,000,000 pounds of canned meat—has just been placed by the Quartermaster's Department, U. S. A., for the American army overseas.

Louis F. Swift, in commenting on this today, said the order will take the bacon from approximately 1,900,000 hogs and if other work were dropped to produce it would be equivalent to the total bacon production of the five largest packers for nearly five weeks, however, six months will elapse before delivery is to be completed.

Mr. Swift said: "At the current prices on the day last week, when the purchase was made, the packers would pay the live stock producers about $80,000,000 for the necessary hogs and over $50,000,000 for about 900,000 cattle required."

munication south of the Aisne, under direct fire.

Allied airmen report that the disorder attending the German retirement north of the Aisne becomes more acute as the Franco-American advance continues. British troops have been thrown into the fighting on the eastern flank of the Aisne-Marne salient, reinforcing the allied forces between Rheims and the Marne river. They began attacking as soon as they reached the firing line, gaining ground in the sectors of Bouilly and St. Euphrase.

Premier Clemenceau visited Chateau Thierry on Sunday and found the ancient city badly wrecked by battle and the streets choked with German dead.

Since the allied counter offensive began last Thursday morning Gen. Foch's forces have taken more than 20,000 prisoners and have gained from six to more than ten miles of ground.

Numerous wounded Americans are arriving here from the front and are being cared for in St. Sulphice hospital.

(International News Service.)

London, July 22.—Further ground has been gained by the British southeast of Hebuterne (south of Arras), the British war office announced today. A successful minor enterprise was carried out by Anglo-French forces in the sector of Villers-Bretonneux (on the Picardy front opposite Amiens).

(International News Service.)

Paris, July 22.—French and American troops broke up strong German counter attacks in the sectors of Drisolles and Bezeau-St. Germaine (between the Marne and Ourcq rivers), the French war office announced today. All of the allied positions were maintained intact.

The Owl Drug Company,
Decatur, Ala.

Sirs:

Will say we have given your Pi-no-zone a fair test and find that the merits of it is all, and even more, than you claim for it.

We tried it on a horse with cracked heel, and the use of one 25-cent bottle cured him in one week, and we worked him every day while applying the remedy.

We also tried it on a customer of ours that had a sore leg of many years' standing and will say the results were more than we expected.

We have used "IROGEN" in the convalescence of all acute medical and surgical cases, in debilitated nervous conditions, in muscular exhaustion, and particularly in anemias due to the stress and strain of industrial activities.

In all the above conditions, "IROGEN" has done splendid work in improving the general condition of patients. The microscopic tests before and after taking "IROGEN," show a rich improvement in the number of cells, and in the richness of the coloring matter of the blood.

There is no doubt that the splendid collection of ingredients constituting the formula "IROGEN" will meet a needed want with hospitals, physicians and the general public.

Union Services Held Indoors

Owing to rain, the Central churches held their union Sunday night services on the porch of the Y. M. C. A. last night. An unusually strong musical program was presented by local talent, and Rev. L. F. Goodwin preached to purpose on the need of self responsibility as revealed by meditation. He used the words of the Psalmist as a text: "When I thought on my ways."

Next Sunday night Dr. W. P. Wilks will deliver the sermon. It was announced that the union services would continue to be held on the "Y" lawn throughout the months of July and August.

Albany Schools to Open September 16

MANY MEMBERS OF THE FACULTY WILL RETURN.

To quiet baseless rumors to the effect that the Albany schools would open in August, with a month's vacation during the winter on account of the fuel situation, Superintendent Kimball Jones announced today that the fall term would begin September 16.

While many members of the faculty will return, there have been several resignations and a few places are yet to be filled. No successor to Prof. Roy Kimbrough, principal of the high school, who is now training at Harvard, has been named.

ligion at a discount. We are too much like the shouting old lady who gave thanks that she had had religion forty years at the cost of only 25 cents. Religion, blood-bought as it is, is the most costly and fine of all possessions. It is so easily spoiled. I can take my hoe and cut it among stones and it is still suitable for its tasks; but not so with the fine bladed razor. Now if our Christian character gets worn and soiled we become of very little force; and what we say receives very little attention.

"Keep thy heart with all diligence," counselled the preacher, "for out of it are the issues of life."

Germans Confirm Roosevelt's Death

(International News Service)

Amsterdam, July 22.—The death of Quentin Roosevelt is confirmed by a Wolff bureau message from the front, according to a Berlin dispatch received here. The message adds that young Roosevelt was buried with military honors by the Germans. The story of the fatal encounter, as told by the Wolff bureau correspondent, follows:

"On Sunday, July 14, an American squadron of twelve planes, was trying to break through the German defenses over the Marne. In the violent combat which ensued with seven German machines, one American aviator stubbornly made repeated attacks. This culminated in a duel between him and a German non-commissioned officer, who, after a short fight, succeeded in getting good aim at his brave but inexperienced opponent, whose machine fell after a few shots near the village of Chambry, 10 kilometres north of the Marne.

"His pocket case showed him to be Lieut. Quentin Roosevelt, of the aviation section of the United States army. The personal belongings of the fallen aviator are carefully being kept with a view to sending them later to his relatives. The earthly remains of the brave young aviator were buried with military honors by German airmen near Chambry at the spot where he fell."

You Can't Rub It Away; Rheumatism is in the Blood

Liniments Will Never Cure. If you are afflicted with Rheumatism, why waste time with liniments, ointments and other local applications that never did cure Rheumatism, and never will?

Do not try to rub the pain away, for you will never succeed. Try the sensible plan of finding the cause of the pain, and go after that. Remove the cause, and there can be no pain. You will never be rid of Rheumatism until you cleanse your blood of the germ that cause the disease. J. S. S. has never had an equal as a blood purifier, and scores of sufferers say that "S.
